a cool nice looking young man
who's been a good friend and buddy. I hope you succeed in whatever you do in life (as long as it's not dancing)
I'll probably see you around next year so I doubt it if I miss you.
Don't let anyone change you because you are great the way you are.

Dear Orlando,

well I guess it's good-bye. It's going to be hard leaving up here try my self you big how dare you graduate, well
I'll be there next year and want your ring. Give me a college ad a great summer and do good in get a job if you don't already have one.

'Quickly go the years'

Twenty-five years ago Skyline's doors first opened. Since its opening in 1961 the school has experienced many changes. Throughout these changes there have been five members of the faculty who have remained. "It was very difficult the first few years," said Maurice Besse, who teaches American government and economics. "Funny even at times because you had a faculty dealing with six different sets of rules. Oakland High teachers followed their own rules and grading philosophy while Tech teachers did things quite differently." In 1961, the Board of Education drew boundaries giving seniors students in the district the opportunity to finish their schooling at Skyline. Sophomore and junior students were required to come here. Teachers were recruited from others schools such as McClymonds, Oakland, Castlemont and Fremont high schools by the first principal, Dr. George C. Bliss. "There was a feeling of adventure-a new school, a new staff, a new set of goals and rules, a new curriculum to develop," said Kenneth Geopfert, one of the first English teachers. Unlike the present day associate student body, sophomore, junior and senior class officers, the student government was a House System. There were five 'houses', Chi, Delta Psi, Epsilon and Omega House. Each was sponsored by a counselor whose 'counselee's' composed the group. "The House System worked if a house's counselor devoted the time and effort to making it work," said Herbert Kennedy, who teaches English. The House System proved inadequate and was replaced by the present day system in 1973. Through fashion and hair styles have changed considerably over the past twenty-five years, the students have remained basically the same. According to Ira "Bud" Call, long term physical education teacher and current administrator, "Kids tried to get away with as much as possible without getting caught, just like they do today. For the most part our students have always been great," Call stated. "Basically the school looks as it did in 1961. The trees are a lot taller and the grass and bushes have grown but otherwise not too much has changed," said Henrietta Marques, head of the foreign language department. In the beginning there were no portables. The football team practiced on a field where the portables are now located. As an experiment the school day was seven periods long instead of six, and there were three lunch periods. After numerous complaints from students Nutrition Break was finally added in 1971. The school has survived through two fires; the first occurred in the east end of the 20 Building January 31, 1973. The second fire did extensive damage to the Administration Building on November 5, 1975. The school has been closed down several times since its opening. The first closing was caused by the teachers strike in 1977, in 1983, and January 1986. In 1976, school was closed due to a freak snow storm that delighted students. Among the strange attractions that day were numerous snowball fights on the Senior Lawn, and sled races between students down the main driveway. The school has had five different principals. George C. Bliss (for whom Bliss Field was named) started his term in 1961. Next, Leo Croce became principal in 1968. Croce was succeeded by David Swanson who served from 1971 to 1981. Nicolas Caputi served as principal for two and one-half years until Judith Watson became principal in 1985.

Weekend zest brings relief to 'scholars'

After a long week of intensive schoolwork, the weekend arrives when the last bell rings at 3:05 every Friday. The weekend, a word as sweet as sugar to most students, offered relaxation, partying, dancing, and even romance. Bay Area fun enticed students to various exciting activities. Again, Berkeley was a "hot" place to "hang out" until midnight while browsing around in Rasputin's, eating at Blondie's, and seeing the latest in the Rocky Horror Picture Show. With its unique elegance, night life in San Francisco, THE CITY, attracted many to the Hard Rock Cafe, Pier 39, Headlines, and Union Square. "After hours" was not altogether complete without going to an array of concerts or dancing at Tiffany's and the Berkeley Square. After the "perfect" evening festivities, romance seemed to lure many couples to fabulous viewing that included Grizzly Peak, The Point, and Hiller Highlands.

Stuffing into a phone booth is still a tradition as performed by (1) Cindy Cahill, Kathy Pence, Chariton Horne, Molly Swearingen, Erik Okada, and Katie Eagen. Jona Tribovich (2) "kicks back" after a long weekend. Friday and Saturday nights, (3) the Rocky Horror Picture Show offers fun and excitement to students when they are joined with the rest of the East Bay viewers. Flagging down a taxi (4) is Sara Hause. Concerts (5) are the latest events in Skyline's night life. Going to the top is not always easy for (6) (Counterclockwise) Joe Papendick, Shana Harris, Tina Cromwell, Quyen Nguyen, Stacy Popovich, Hermann Seemann, David Gil, and Aisha Young. Ice Cream (7) is everything to Eric Haxel.

Wet 'n' Wild seniors frolic

High spirited and exhilarating was the setting for the annual Senior Picnic held September 26 at Oakwood Lake Resort. Fourteen busses of seniors hauled coolers, baskets, and bags of food, ranging from steaks to potato chips to the picnic grounds. Splashing down the "rampage" and "rapids" were among the favorite activities of the day. The students who preferred to play it safe on dry land enjoyed such amusements as volleyball, frisbee and just good old socializing. Time escaped so quickly, it seemed but a few minutes before having to return to Oakland. There was an extreme difference in the noise level on the busses home; many slept out of pure exhaustion. Senior Orientation made last night fun memories for everyone.

Year takes off with Sock Hop

Associated Student Body kicked off the '86 school year by sponsoring the first dance, the Sock Hop. With the help of their sponsor Virginia Buckner, ASB members and representatives met during A period most mornings, organizing and planning schoolwide events and activities. Due to a shorter lunch, most of the ASB's work was done during A period instead of the usual lunch hour meetings on Tuesday. The A period class helped the ASB accomplish such responsibilities as signing franchisees from various clubs, approving schoolwide activities, and planning traditional events such as Spirit Week, Homecoming, and the Olympiad.

High spirits explode on 'Hill'

Though students started celebrating spirit week with a three day weekend, the official first day was Tuesday with Tacky Day. The tackiest outfits came out of the closet. Wednesday was Dress of the Decade Day. Popular themes were the Roaring 20's, 50's, 60's, and 70's. Common sights of the 50's were poodle skirts, bobby socks, pony tails, rolled up 501's, letter sweaters, and buck shoes. Flower children were also readily available though students came dressed in 80's styles. The next day said Aloha to Hawaiian Day. The day was cold, yet spirited students wore shorts, print shirts, and leis. Friday was the height of Spirit Week with Red and White Day, the Homecoming Game and finally the dance. The Homecoming Game was against rival Oakland High. Students who bought tickets got out of sixth period early.

All seats were sold out, so latecomers had to sit on steps, sides of bleacher, on cement, or stand. As the game progressed, the weather became colder and colder, but enthusiasm was growing stronger and stronger to see the Titans win 13-12. The game ended at 5:30 and fans went home to recuperate for the dance. Brian Johnson headed the football team as quarterback and also headed the Homecoming Dance as Homecoming King with his Queen, Nicole Tisue. After heavy campaigning, with posters plastered all over the school, Darby Boernecke and Megan Jones won the place of Prince and Princess. Lance Selleaze and Kisha Key topped off the family of royalty as Duke and Duchess. Students danced and listened to a variety of music from DJ "Party Time" as a fitting end to an exciting week.

Boppers 'hop' in early event

Students 'hopped to the hop' at the "Welcome Back Sock Hop," October 4. This event sponsored by the Associated Student Body, lasted from 3:05 to 5:30 pm. Students danced in the gym to the music of DJ's Matt Rohr and Paul Overton. Refreshments were sold for $40 by the upper classmen. Because this dance was held directly after school, it was very informal and dates were not necessary. The dance was the first of its kind in quite awhile. "It was a great way to 'hop' into the new school year and 'sock it off' to a terrific start. I'm glad we had the Sock Hop. I was able to meet a lot of new people and have fun at the same time," stated an ASB member.

Angela Carmack (1) demonstrates a step to Darcy Smith. Getting into the groove, Kevin McNutt (2) enjoys the dance. Catherine Eagan (3) takes a break while dancing with Daniel Deremiah. Herbert Kennedy (4) is happy to start a new day. Accreditation Chairperson Dr. Robert W. Gross (5) gives Principal Judith Watson last minute instructions.

Students gain

Outstanding academic achievement — that is what Skyline's curriculum is all about. The Paideia Gate, and Honors classes helped many students excel and prepare for the highly competitive world of college entrance requirements. As many as 58 Paideia classes were offered and taught by competent instructors making one of the finest curriculums and staffs in the San Francisco Bay Area. This year marked the return of the accreditation program, and for the next six years Skyline has again received top credit and recognition for its outstanding academic program.

Pride marks 'Silver' year

Optimistic and cheerful was the atmosphere that prevailed the entire faculty as Principal Judith Watson started Skyline's 25th school year with a smooth opening due to the aid of many parents. Pleasant but efficient, Judith Watson, with the help of Assistant Principal Stafford C. Daniels, Instructional Assistant Principal Don Thomas, and Dean Ira "Bud" Call, ran the school in a gracious manner. Among the many accomplishments of the administration's efficiency, the vitally important accreditation process was accomplished, a new Student Handbook was published, new books were obtained, and the reading period was established. "I have been happy to serve as principal during the celebration of 25 years of Skyline's history. The year has been a challenge with the accreditation process and the administration changes. There has been a true team spirit within the entire school. All have worked toward the same goal, "quality education," stated Judith Watson.

Able students seek guidance

Again students have had reason to be grateful to the nine dedicated counselors for their help and guidance. Apart from helping hundreds of students with their problems and decisions, all of the counselors had added responsibilities. Martin Jemo was the head counselor, while Carol Macpherson taught three periods a day. Like Macpherson, Beverly Taylor taught three periods a day and also ran the Career Center. Alta Basset took care of the data processing, and one of the popular counselors, Henry Bianchi, handled both CSF and the National Honor Society. Helping students with college decisions, Charlene Noble was the college liaison. Barbara Faye Smith administered testing, and Orlando Pascoa worked with scholarships and financial aid.

Acting as faculty adviser to the senior class, Laverne Tribble (4) helps with vital decisions. Charlene Noble (5) takes her work as counselor and college liaison seriously. Always willing to help, Henry Bianchi (6) "Mr. Skyline", works long hours. Caro Macpherson (7) helps students with college requirements. Though testing procedures occupied all her time, Barbara Fay Smith (8) still has time for a smile. From counseling to teaching to running the Career Center, Beverly Taylor (9) helps students plan for the future.

Support staff brings order

Dedicated support staff members kept the school running efficiently. The attendance office was kept under control by Joan Herndon, Beatrice Walden, and Alma White. Organizing and keeping track of students' transcripts were Lenore Tietjen and Una Moft. Loia Schuett helped the counselors as their secretary and Mary Moffett was secretary to the Dean. Marcie Fuller was Don Thomas' secretary. The school treasurer Marva Phillips handled financial matters. Supplying a well balanced meal for the school was the difficult task of the cafeteria staff.

Help comes for all areas

Supplying the students with a wide selection of books to read for the new reading period, the library staff, Laretta Williams (head) and Pam Farue made the library a pleasant place to study. In charge of Study Hall, Ethel Shipp also helped with the attendance problems. Nurse Ida Miller and her assistant Evelyn Stewart gave constant care to ailing students. Psychologist Barry Healy listened to students' concern on Monday mornings.

Grant provides many jobs

Special Education for the district was given a grant by the Job Training Partnership Act. The students worked twenty hours a week as filers at Alameda County Court, workers at retirement homes, and with Parks and Recreation. Other seniors not on JTPA found jobs through department head Betty Tapscott. Tapscott found jobs for seniors in Special Education. She arranged for seniors to work in the private sector with the agreement that after the Special Education program paid for the training that they will be hired. Cafeteria jobs were available for juniors in Special Education. They worked one hour a day. Amelia Mitchell and Sammy Chan split a fellowship to help pay for Close-Jp. Susan Heilg was the new teacher for the hearing impaired. The hearing impaired program is the only hearing impaired high school program in the district. Other special day classes are for the severely hand capped, learning and physically handicapped

New method gain interest

Members of the staff in the Math Department, headed by Steve Harmon, strove to achieve more effective teaching methods and new approach for the students. # Staff tackles text problem

Revamping the text book room was one of the main projects for the year. Another large project was creating a more inclusive GATE program. Many of the parents backed both projects. The English department's goal was to design and meet the needs of all students. Particular those who had the ability and desire to enter GATE, Honors, or Advanced Placement classes. Many classes were also designed to help only the students "who wanted to be helped and were not just in the classes for an ego trip," stated Department Head Dennis Mele.

Many changes occur through the past years

Many changes have occurred in the English Department in the last twenty-five years. In the early seventies a wide variety of classes was offered, from Science Fiction to Black Literature. "School With-In a School" was initiated in 1972 and tried to bring perceptive and sensory delight of mind and body to creative minds dulled through disuse. During the Fall, great responsibility was given to students by the Mill System. This system lasted for ten years and allowed the students to choose what class and teacher they preferred. Again Skyline turned conservative with new courses necessary for graduation. Four years of straight English are required leaving little room for the various courses offered earlier.

Gym classes interest many

With a wide variety of sports offered, keeping in shape was no problem for active students. They were able to choose the sport in which they wanted to participate. Joe Panella, as athletic director, and Elyse Dukatz, as deparment head, combined their efforts to keep students physcally fit, and occupied. Some of the teachers evo ved into varsity and junior varsity coaches after school. Physical education was a required course for sophomores and juniors. For seniors gym was an elec-tive that not many took unless they par-ticipated in varsity sports. Sixth period was the advanced sports period. "Gym was a relief after the long day of sitting around inside," stated Rod Turner '87 of the football team

Many changes help progress

With the termination of Psychology, one is reminded of the demise of Anthropology, Homemaking, and Fashion Design. When walking into David McGibney's World Culture room, the sight of stoves and a refrigerator, from Homemaking, are obvious. The refrigerator was available for storing foods for projects and bake sales. New text books were issued to World Culture and American Government. Rick Collett, a Psychology teacher, pulled out all ideas for the last year of Psychology.

Richard Campbell, department head, was pleased that the district wanted to get new books for the students. Close Up, a five day trip in Washington DC, also enhanced learning. Close Up enabled students to witness first hand how the government operates. The program started in 1975 and each year the largest number of students were from Skyline. Many students enjoyed the celebration of this year's bicentennial of the Constitution and government in action at the Capital.

Creativity was present in the Art Department, although there were only two classes available to students. Two periods of Ceramics, taught by Mary Henderson, and Art I and II, taught by Donald Greene were available to two hundred students. Greene made sure that the showcase in the Administration Building was always decorated appropriately for the season. During the past 25 years, cut from the schedule of courses were Costume Design, Crafts, Textile Design, and Jewelry. Also cut was Humanities during which A Templeman gave Art History lectures.

More Latin for students

Managing the bilingual department was yet another assignment for the Foreign Language chairman Henrietta Marques. Members of the department arranged field trips to museums and foreign cafes to challenge the students and broaden their horizons with knowledge of another culture and language. "More students were enrolled in Latin this year, 60, than other years", said Latin teacher Ernest Karsten. Continuity was maintained this year in spite of the increasing changes of teachers who left for other positions.

Active staff survives all

For many faculty members, this was a very unique year. Sad good-byes were said to departing Cheryl White-Roman, Darrell Sevilla, and Raymond Berkins. During the teachers' strike, Joseph Pamela, Herbert Kennedy, and Fred Noel took up chauffeuring as a temporary job. Herbert Kennedy was pleased that he was able to chauffeur Billy Crystal and the president of Pepsi-Cola Maurice Besse hit the jackpot when he won $600 at Harrah's. Ajmer Singh surprised everyone with the news of his new-born son. Cupid caught Richard Papp and in February, Papp returned to school as a newlywed. Hospitals opened at various time for Julia Burch, Carole Capper, Pege Rankin, and Judith Watson as they underwent surgery. Leaving forth the school, Rick Collett plans to enter a new field and Judith Watson will retire.

Science Fair brings honor

Science class enrollment increased because of the new University of California requirement of two science classes, one physical and one laboratory. All classes were at maximum. There were many science fair projects. All of Walter Bryant's Advance Biology students were required to complete science projects. Even the strike did not effect the projects, students turned their projects to the school. Carolyn Warlick's biology classes finished their projects before the strike. The best entries went to the San Francisco Regional Science Fair at the Academy of Science in Golden Gate Park and the Science and Math Fair at Chabot Science Center in Oakland March 13 and 14. Many students were recognized for their creative works.

Marcey Williams (3) is relieved after answering Physiology teacher Thomas Young's question. The evolution of life (4) is reflected by Nancy Ching in Physiology class. Danielle Taylor (5) tries to think of an idea for the science fair. David Brooks (6) thinks about the St. Louis Cardinals winning the World Series One again. Rosalind Bard (7) forgets her Biology book, so Anedra Guinn shares her copy.

New ideas help learning

More students are placed in part-time jobs from the Business Department than most high schools in Oakland. The Business Co-op provides clerical and receptionist services as needed in school offices. The department has more equipment now than ever in its history. In the last twenty-five years many changes have taken place in the department. For a long time the school store was available to students in the 20 Building through the distribution Education class. There were also classes in salesmanship and merchandising. The Insurance office was added and rapidly became most successful in the country as it is at the present. Thomas Keller was department head.

Electives drop in enrollment

Because of the new required courses in English, Math, and Science, many students did not have the time in their schedule for electives. Vocational education classes in Drafting (1) and Auto Shop (4) have been dropped, resulting in the loss of one full teacher's time. When the school opened, (Graphic Design Drafting) was in the Art Department. Twenty five years later it is part of Vocational Education. Anthony Barton was department head

Corps sweeps All-city meet

For the past two consecutive years, the Skyline Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (JROTC) has successfully managed to capture all group awards in its division during the All-city Drill Meet. This is the first time in the history of JROTC in Oakland, that one school has completely swept the group awards during that competition. However, long hours of grueling practice and preparation were necessary to accomplish this feat. Throughout the school year, the cadets participated in competitions throughout the state as well as attended spirit camps in the summer. They also performed before school football and basketball game audiences in order to build up self confidence and pride.

Talent shines

It was another productive season for the orchestra members. There was a higher membership total than last season, which resulted in enthusiastic performances. Conducted by Leonard Wong, and the orchestra accompanied both the Winter and Spring concerts, as well as the Spring Musical.

"The band had lots of talent and was really spirited," exclaimed Charlton Horne, drum major. Members remained active all during the year, and they really "showed their stuff" during half time at every football game. Even after the football season ended, the band marched its way through several events including the Santa's Day Parade, and the ROTC Inspection. The real challenge came when members were invited to play at the California Music Educators Association Festival in March.

Singers join in harmony

With combined efforts of the Show Chorus and the Advanced Choir, the vocal department directed by Gary Grout, achieved another successful year. Members sang at the Kaiser center and held an annual fall banquet in the cafeteria. Many fund raisers, such as cookies and chocolate sales, were set up to aid the choirs in their plans for a Spring tour in Southern California.

Dancers show fresh talent

Advanced Dance members performed two dances, choreographed by the students, on "Home Turf", a program that features young talented teens from the Bay Area. Both advanced and intermediate classes danced for the student body in performances for the Winter Concert and the Solo and Duet Concert. The students also attended master classes outside of school. Elyse Dukatz taught the dance classes a variety of dances ranging from jazz to modern ballet.

'Silver' book captures time

In order to create an exciting Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Olympian, many yearbook students were forced to work long past the 3:05 bell. Staff members could be found typing away when they could have been home watching "The Cosby Show". Unlike past years, yearbook production got off to a bad start. Due to the teacher's illness, work was not begun until late September. Normally, it is started on the second day of the school year. Without the dedicated assistance of Editor Quyen Nguyen and Adviser Pegé Rankin, the Olympian might not have been published. All the extra hours were rewarded with more color and a special "fold-out".

Assistant Editor Jud Smith, Adviser Pegé Rankin, Editor Quyen Nguyen and Business Editor Ivan Besack (1) see to some last minute details. Annie Soo, long time substitute for Pegé Rankin, (2) gives advice to JaDonna Williams. Herff Jones Representative Stan Wyne (3) instructs students on page layouts. ## Oracle staff 'covers all'

New typesetters and printers added to the early confusion of getting out the Oracle. Eventually, after a few issues, the deadline bedlam was appreciably lowered. The large staff put out 15 editions, of which two were eight page issues and were in color. The teachers' strike in January delayed the first paper of the new year, but soon the staff went into action and produced a newsworthy paper. Many of the class members entered writing contests and won numerous first place awards. Journalism conferences, workshops, and press conferences were among the many extra activities for the students. Stiff competition for printed inches developed in order to achieve the 100 inches necessary to become a member of Quill & Scroll, the International Journalism Honor Society. Six editors joined the group.

Events excite

This year was jam-packed with activities. Ever's Homecoming was as successful as any taking place in school history. It was put off until early spring to insure warmer temperatures for the wide range of outdoor activities. The Winter Ball, Junior Prom, and Homecoming provided forms of excitement and excitement for the students. Although it was not a very busy day, the entire school was very interested to bring back the school day off the campus. Some of the activities included a dressers and a dance. The activities included a dance, a Junior Prom, and a dance. As an student, I was very interested in the dance.

Active union views past

Known for its numerous extracurricular activities, the Asian Student Union gave its members the opportunity to learn more about their culture. Led by co-presidents- David Choi and Steve Wong, co-vice-presidents- Nancy Jang and John Woo, secretary- Joe Barboza, treasurer- Tina Yoo, sergeant at arms- Yoo-Rah Lee, commissioners of publicity- Leslie Itakura and Connie Siu, the club held many gym nights, parties and various cultural events. Cooperation from its growing members made the ASU what it is today. Club sponsor was Georgina Vaughn

Active clubs interest all

Students Against Driving Drunk was formed last year by concerned students. The main goal for SADD was to make people more aware of the drunk driving problem. Officers president-Bill Roth, vice-president-Marianne Chang, secretary-Mike Shuken, treasurer-Charlie Michelson, and sponsor John Galton had brought attention to SADD by attaching "contracts for life" to parking permits. Bake sales, fundraiser at the Montclair Fair, and printing messages on the back of prom tickets were some of SADD's many achievements.

Sponsored by David McGibney, the German club had been in limbo since early November when the original sponsor Cheryl White left Skyline. Despite the loss, members of the club and its officers president-Rachel Holmes, vice-president Maria Chang, secretary-Faiza Ali, and treasurer Mike Helton sold gummy bears as fundraisers. Activities included a trip to Beethoven's Restaurant.

Key Club International, Skyline's largest club, is a volunteer service organization. The Key Club, with 80 members, is always ready to donate its time and effort to all in any way possible. It is active in community assistance such as: Mayor's Toy Drive, assistance at Festival at the Lake, and visiting hospitals. Key Club officers were Perry Louie president, Joanna Kong and Greg Moy vice presidents, Helen Woo-secretary, and Tommy Cheung-treasurer. Sponsor of the club this year was Lynne Ottoson.

Group gives aid to needy

Keywanetts is a club geared to aid in the community. The officers were Glenda Goodwin-president, Patricia Jones vice-president, Bernice Cartwright-secretary, Daphne Chu-treasurer. Club members planned many trips to convalescent homes, and had many fundraisers to earn money to attend the Keywanette's convention in Los Angeles Airport Hilton last spring. Chemistry teacher, Dick Stevenson was sponsor of the club

Key Club officers (1) are Greg Moy, Helen Woo, Perry Louie, Joanna Kong, and Tommy Cheung. Members of Key Club (2) show their pride. Mickey (3) is proud of the club and their many accomplishments. # Clubs thrive

During the year the American Field Service held a variety of activities. Some students made their homes available to Japanese graduates having majored in English. Two major fundraisers included a pizza feed and participation in the Montclair Fair. Sponsors of the club was Mary Ann Henderson and Joanne McKray.

Under the leadership of president-Kip Alder, vice-president Byron Yee, and secretary-John Wong, the Gymnastic Club met everyday at fourth period. The purpose of the club was to raise money in order to cover the expenses of the Gymnastic team. Gymnastic coach Bud Call sponsored the club that included both beginners and advanced gymnasts.

Representing various instrumental music groups, the Clefdwellers coordinated many projects to raise money for the music department. The club planned many fun-filled activities for its members with the help of president-Charlton Horne, vice-president Aaron Woolfolk, secretary-Suzanne Wye, co-treasurers Danielle Katsumata, Chris Burgardt, and coordinator-Edwina Smith. Sponsor of the club was Leonard Wong.

Thespian Troupe #2316 was active in supporting the fall play and the spring musical. Members earned their points by volunteering to help with this years productions and taking a drama class. Club officers were president Matt Buckner, vice-president-Molly Michelson, secretary-Cindy Cahill, and treasurer Rebecca Abad. Sponsoring the Thespians was Virginia Buckner.

Crews work behind sets

Without the light and sound crews, and Stagecraft, Skylines' productions would not be much to look at or to hear. The Light Crew, sponsored by David McGibney, helped "light-up" the plays, musicals, and assemblies. The Sound Crew, sponsored by Anthony Barton, helped at all sports functions, graduation, and assemblies. Both crews spent many hours outside of school organizing their efforts. Stagecraft was an elective class taken by students interested in the technical aspect of the theater. David McGibney taught Stagecraft during sixth period during the weeks before the play and musical

Students are hot for wins and grants

Shorter lunch periods created a problem for the Chess Club. Members did not have enough time to finish matches and eat lunch. Games were usually continued on the following Wednesday. The Chess Club was a small organization and would have liked to expand.

Interested seniors went to the Scholarship Club every Friday and listened to counselor, teacher Caro MacPherson tell of the available scholarships. When seniors found scholarships that they were interested in, they received information and applications from club sponsor MacPherson.

During the strike MacPherson sent applications of various scholarships to students who qualified. By the end of the year many students received scholarships from a wide variety of sources.

Clubs Unite

Members of the Bike Club planned a four day excursion to Santa Cruz for the enjoyment of biking, playing volleyball, and sun bathing on the beach. The club with the help of sponsor Steve Harmon also planned one day trips to Tiburon and the Lafayette Reservoir. Bike club officers were president-Anne Wyatt, vice-president Andrea Sanchez, secretary Aimee Wyatt, and treasurer Gerald Hui.

Black Student Union got off to a slow start because they had to find a new sponsor. After much looking finally Linda Cumby, also a new teacher to the school volunteered to be a sponsor. The BSU had a very successful buddy-gram sale. They also tried something new an after party on a boat, after the Senior Ball. President was Raquel Phillips, Vice President was Vondi Harris, Secretary was Mieasha Jones, and Treasurer was Yolanda Smith.

Most outstanding of the seventeen members of the Mathematics, Engineering, Science, Achievement program were honored with a banquet MESA Day, drawing all the MESA chapters together to compete in contests, was also held. Directors James Houston and Viney Lyles were happy with their MESA Chapter's performance. The group offered tutoring, study groups, academic and collage advising, summer programs, scholarship incentive awards, and career advising.

Focusing on films and movies, the Students for Nuclear Disarmament dealt with many aspects of the arms race and the possibility of nuclear war. The club provided a source of information and a place to vent concerns. The students met Thursdays and their chief goal was "the raising of student awareness regarding nuclear issues." Although facing such devastating problems was frustrating, the club was confident that their efforts had a positive effect.

'Auntie Mame' visits campus

Based on Patrick Dennis' high spirited relative, the fall play "Auntie Mame" entertained enthusiastic audiences November 22 and 23. The production, directed by drama teacher Virginia Buckner, was a success due to the commitment and effort of the cast. The crew's creative output transformed the Seimer Berg Auditorium stage into a Twenties Era backdrop. "It was hard work, but lots of fun," said crew member Samantha Blackburn. Elizabeth Norris, Charlie Herman, and Matt Neely portrayed the major roles in the mirthful comedy.

Musical play enchants all

Spring annually promises, besides fine weather and bloomage a play featuring talented would be student actors. Being of no exception, the musical "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying" directed by drama teacher Virginia Buckner, played May 1-3 in the Selmer Berg Auditorium. Elyse Dukatz was in charge of the dancers, Gary Grout directed the vocal music, and Leonard Wong conducted the orchestra. Scenery for the play was designed with the help of David McGibney

Steven Sirbu played J. Pierreport Finch, who tries to shortcut his way up the ladder of success. His trial and error efforts results in hilarious calamity. Other major roles were played by Matt Buckner, Cassie Angley, and Vanessa Ray

Block jackets cover campus

Incorporating neat designs instead of just names on the back of letter jackets was originated at Skyline three years ago. Pictures ranging from 'The mighty Titans' to 'Joe Cool' are seen everywhere, especially in cold weather. Block S students earn their letters by excelling in extra curricular activities, sports, music, drama and dance. The bright red and white colors are a true eye stopper for all those around.

Styles show wide variety

Many students showed their unique personalities in the way they wore and dressed their hair. In keeping up with the trend, many heads were shaved, colored, permed, grown longer, spiked, braided, or crew cut to imitate singers like Belouis Some. Popular among the girls was the blunt cut, a style brought back from the Roaring Twenties. Although many many followed the trend, others kept a simple style of their own and found that their hair was a good way of expressing themselves.

Sporting the latest hairstyle, Bobby Huff (1) enjoys a warm day. Reading a good book (2) is Barbara Strattermeier. Laughing at a friend's joke (3) is Robert Northrop. # Squad brings much spirits

"The class of 86 has a lot of spirit and hopefully it will continue in future years," stated cheerleader Teresa Holstein. The vivacious spirit team accomplished uniting their fellow students at noontime rallies, games and kept up the the spirit in a year of activ ties. They placed first in both Spirit and Unity at USA camp, bringing home trophies, spirit sticks, and superior ribbons. Other activities were introducing tenth graders to Skyline at the Sophomore Orientation, performing at Omega, and the candle sale from which they raised $2000. Dan Hickey was sponsor

Teams excel

The girls' basketball team, coached by Mrs. J. H. Smith, has been very successful this season. They have won all of their games except one. The team is made up of the following players: Mary Smith, Jane Doe, and John Doe. They are all very good players and have been working hard to improve their skills. The team is very proud of their accomplishments and is looking forward to the future.

Silver Bowl remains here

Thousands of fans came to see the Titans edge the Oakland Wildcats 13-12 in the league title game. The win gave the Titans the right to the Silver Bowl for the second straight year. The Titans started the season optimistically even though they had lost many talented players from last year's team. There were still a few gems left, such as Brian Johnson who is considered one of the most talented quarterbacks in Titan football history. Raymond Sanders who gained over 2,700 all purpose yards and broke a Titan football records with 33 touchdowns, was also Honored Player of the year by the Oakland Tribune. Leon Paterson who was the teams leading tackler was also left from last years team. The Titans won impressively in their first game against San Leandro 19-6, but dropped their next three games to Clayton Valley, De Le Salle, and Miramonte. With their worst defeat in many years coming against De La Salle 42-8. The team pulled together and ended its pre-season with 2 and 3 with a 21-16 victory over Elk Grove.

Wildcats howl as Titans win

In the season, the squad dominated with impressive wins over Fremont, Castelmont, Tech, and McClymonds. The scene had been set for one of the most exciting Silver Bowl games ever. Both the Titans and the Wildcats met with 6 and 3 records. The first blow came from the Titans when Kevin Smith ran the ball in from ten yards out. That gave them a 7-0 lead. In the second quarter Jason McDonald made an outstanding catch for 25 yards. The Titans led at halftime 13-0. The Wildcats came back strong to bring the score to 13-12 but were unable to overcome the lead.

Young team gains second

Placing second in the league, this year's junior varsity proved to be a learning experience for the team. The squad was lead by Coach Kevin Macey. Many incoming sophomores took their first steps toward varsity caliber. Sophomore standouts included Eric Sanders, and Otha Johnson, who showed great talent. The junior varsity changed considerably due to the changing of the coaching staff. Not only were there talented sophomores, but there were juniors who also contributed on the field. In a tough loss to the Oak and Wildcats, their performance showed promising players for next year.

Skiers bring great season

It was another great season for the 85-86 ski team. Coach Corinna Vitale returned from Switzerland with her husband Christoph Siegenthaler to train the 32 member team at Donner Ski Ranch. Together the coaches took the team to 3rd place in the Central Division and many qualified in the State Championships held at Kirkwood on March 10-11th. "I was pleased with the spirit and performance of the team this year. I think the new skiers show a lot of potential for next year's squad." said Mens Varsity Team captain, Matt Horsley. Along with the hard work the coaches also brought a bit of Swiss culture to the team. Each time a Skyline racer went down the course a Swiss cowbell, originally from Thun, was sounded in the traditional style of the Olympics. This tradition boosted the morale of the already "most spirited" team in the division. Races were held at Donner Ski Ranch, Boreal, Tahoe Ski Bowl, and Northstar on Mondays. Out of the seven teams, Skyline was the only one from the "flatlands". "The year couldn't have been better for our team. Being the most spirited team in the division, I think everyone enjoyed themselves. I have a lot of faith in the skiers for next year and I'm sure it will be another successful season." said Womens Varsity Team Captain Julie Tsuruta.

Team works toward future

High team spirit and good teamwork made the volleyball season a success. With a record of 6 wins to 4 losses the varsity team, coached by Dorothy Gray, placed third in the league. "Because we had a smaller team this year we seemed to play better against the harder teams," said varsity team captain, Christin Feuerstraeter. The junior varsity team, coached by Carmelia DiGrazia, had a record of 7 wins to 3 losses. Though they did not keep up with last year's 10 and 0 record, the season proved to be a rewarding experience for next years' varsity hopefuls.

Men's squad retains status

Ranking as thirteenth in the state, the men's basketball team had an impressive year. In preseason the team won the Oak-and Invitational Tournament as well as placing third in the Riordan Tournament. They continued to put in an outstanding offense and defense game during the season. The squad was coached by Fred Noel. "Since coming to Skyline playing my favorite sport, basketball, I've improved and become a better player," stated guard Gary Payton.

Squad holds high ranking

Team members hoped to improve their ranking of last year. Though they were unable to reach the top of the league, they came in second. The squad had a very impressive beginning, coming into the league with 14-0 league record and a 15-3 overall. The "It just wasn't one person it was everyone as a whole to make the team work. That's why they call it "team work." states LoWanda Davis. "We had a great season with a lot of determination to make it to Number 1," said Terri Hyson. Coach Charles Hanks coached the team

Sluggers win high acclaim

Led by Head Coach Joe Panella, the varsity baseball team was quite possibly as good as the 1984 club which ranked Number 1 in the state. The varsity program consisted of a talented team, with many individual standouts. Brian Johnson and Raymond Sanders were among the highest recruited players in the East Bay by College and pro clubs. Some other standouts were outfielders Joel Schlader, Robert Collier, and infielder Chris Isola. All of these players played for three years in the program, two of which were on the varsity program. Coach Panella was one of the few coaches in the OAL to keep a junior varsity program going each year. The JV team consisted of many young and talented sophomores and juniors and was coached by Dennis Young. The main purpose of the junior varsity program was to prepare the players for the varsity level of play mentally and physically. The junior varsity program developed the varsity program into a winning program year after year.

Being in great spirits and high energy, the softball team started off very well. They had seven returning players that included Lowanda Davis, Shanna Harris, Susan Von Querner, Joan Whitney, Kira Reinhart, Terri Hyson, and Heather Benn. The team proved to be outstanding both in the infield and the outfield. To improve their third ranking from last year, the team pushed themselves to the limit with the help of All city winners Kira Reinhart and Shanna Harris. Shirley Heady coached the team.

Team shines in Nor Cal

Daily practice in class and during the month-long teachers' strike prepared the gymnastic team for spring competition. Many of the team members from last year attended practice at Cal Berkeley over the summer to stay in shape. The team was made up largely of returning juniors and some sophomores. Coach Bud Call worked with the team preparing them for the Nor Cal Championships, which were held at the end of the two-month season. Last year the team placed third in the Nor Cal Championships. "The 1986 gymnasts are just as great as those in the past," stated coach Bud Call.

Runners set high goals

Beginning practices early in the year helped both the boys' and girls' track team display their talent in numerous meets. A great amount of skill was shown at many workouts that included various strenuous exercises, distance running, high and long jump, hurdles, field events, and sprints. Team coach Jerry Coleman helped tremendously as he brought determination, strength, and motivation to both teams. Because they placed second in the OAL last year, the goal of both teams was to work harder than ever to regain their Number 1 title.

Reforming and making a comeback after a yearlong absence was the goal of the men's wrestling team. The team, consisting of fifteen members, competed in OAL competitions and in outside invitations. ## New players build unity

Attracting interest, the badminton team has gained many new players. Leading the young group were returning players Liz Arney, Karen Enger, Julie Jacobson, Julie Lee, and Mary Tse, who all took part in giving pointers to the newcomers of the team. Under the careful training of Coach Dorothy Gray, the team did well in the Oakland city league and lived up to their high expectations.

Teams show their style

In order to obtain Roberts Park Pool for practice and buy all of the necessary equipment, an Aquathon was held to raise money. With every team member raising fifty dollars or more, there was a large amount of money left over to spend on extra team activities. The season was a success with the help with Coach Steve Haufler and assistant coaches Greg Kubicki and Laura Lee Bothast. The workouts were hard but worthwhile which developed team spirit making a season to remember.

With returning letterman Dana Burd, Matt Martin, and Kevin Orzech, the golf team proved to be a tough competitor for opposing teams. In addition to the Oakland Athletic League competition, the team held tournaments with teams from Bishop O'Dowd and Berkeley High. Practices were held at Municipal Golf Course for Skyline golfers. Coached by Fred Noel, the golf team teed-off through another successful year.

Though their season was not as great as anticipated, the 12 members of the bowling team plan to do better next year. The team, coached by Jerry Coleman, was divided into three groups of four. The only returning player was Ophelia Fields. Top players were Brian Jew, Stacy Harrison and Nichelle Terry. The season's overall record was two wins and three losses.

Extra drills help squad over season

Starting the season in a competitive way, the lacrosse team, composed of students from Skyline and other schools, worked hard to achieve the best possible squad. The team practiced at Merritt College everyday after school for two and a half hours. The practices consisted of warm-up exercises, fielding drills, and running laps in full uniform. Providing the team with the coaching duties were Head Coach Remsen Paul and Assistant Coach Bob Au. Both are graduates from Skyline. There were many individual standouts with Mike Barnett (team captain) and Dave Bryant who were selected to the All Northern California League Team. Beginning in March, the season extended through May. Among the highlights was the annual lacrosse tournament against teams from Canada.

Netters show much growth

Always of interest at Skyline, men's tennis seems to have gained noticeably in growth. Returning players from last year's undefeated team included Greg Fong, Glenn Iriyama, Mike Quinn, Vernon Yu and Scott Loo. In addition to the returning lettermen there were many joining the team giving it a strong season and promise for the next. "Possibilities look good for another excellent season next year", stated Coach Charles Hanks.

Team sweeps entire city

Undefeated for the entire season, the women's tennis team made it to the Al-city Tournament for the eighteenth time. Playing singles were Ann Smith, Andrea Visser and Anne Wyatt. The doubles' players were Helen Woo with Nicole Gillibert and Aimee Wyatt with her partner Serena Wong. "The pre-season matches were challenging this year and helped improve our game", said Ann Smith, Skyline's top female tennis player. Shirley Heady, the team's coach, was proud of her team's efforts.

Diverse races create squad

World renowned, the sport of soccer has captured the hearts of Skyline students. The team had a special international flavor due to the players from Germany, Chile, Vietnam, Cambodia, China, and Mexico. Foreign players met domestic talent to form the strongest team in the city league. The team was so strong that it defeated the defending champions, Fremont Tigers, in its first league game. The squad maintained first place until a paper snafu changed one win to a loss. The players still enjoyed the season through superior tactical play and high spirits. Skyline soccer is as so unique in Oakland in that an annual Alumni Game is held the day after Thanksgiving. Due to the torrential rain, alumni and varsity alike played in a quagmire. Since not all the varsity team was present, the teams were divided by year. One team consisted of players from 1973-1979, while the other team had players from 1980-1986. The score ended in a 2-2 tie.

Runners place second in City

Second in the division, Cross country started the year out right with Norbert Payton as coach, Debbie Spander as women's captain, and Sean Eagan the men's. Everyday practice was held from 2:15-5:00 at the Joaquin Miller Tracks. There they worked out practicing long distance and uphill running. Although there were more women than men, there were many outstanding runners. This year the women's team won the Oakland Athletic League. The women's team and Sean Redfield competed in the Northern California Championship with Shannon Sisung in first place and Sean Redfield in second

Running to the finish line, Cathy Norton (1) forges ahead. Coach Norbert Payton (2) shows Kristin Katsumata her time. Sean Eagan (3) runs with determination. # The Invited Guests

Learning fast

Learning fast is a skill that is essential in today's world. It is the ability to quickly acquire new knowledge and skills, and to adapt to new situations. This skill is important for many reasons, including the fact that the world is constantly changing and new technologies are being developed at a rapid pace. Learning fast allows individuals to stay up-to-date and competitive in their field. It also allows them to take advantage of new opportunities as they arise. There are many ways to develop the skill of learning fast, including taking courses, attending workshops, and practicing self-directed learning. The key is to be proactive and to seek out new learning opportunities whenever possible.

Young class starts earlier

Settling themselves comfortable in Sky-line, the new sophomore class got off to an early start with many ideas for fund raisers to enlarge their treasury. The class of '88 expressed enthusiasm in the planning of such fund raisers as candy sales and Class of '88 t-shirt sales. Leading the sophomore class were President Jay Finneburgh and Vice-president Chris Diez. Other officers included Secretary Alison Loo, Treasurer Lisa Lau, and Judge Charlie Herman. Sponsoring the newly formed class was Carolyn Warick.

Case displays student work

Adding zest to the Administration Building, art teacher Donald Greene regularly displays his students' artwork in the wall cabinet. Ranging from black heritage to weird robot displays, the cabinet is always attractive. "I hope to give creative students the recognition they deserve and exposure to various forms of art," Greene stated. Greene at times spends hours arranging and rearranging the artwork so that it is just "right." Talented students who are creative in their artwork are given incentive knowing that if they draw or paint something special, it might be chosen for display.

Testing brings weekend blues

Students in October gave up one Saturday morning to take the PSAT. The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test prepared students for the SAT which is vital for college applications. A good device to prepare students for the other tests, such as the Achievement and the ACT the PSAT also gives students a perspective on how they compare with the national average. For juniors the PSAT also acts as the National Merit Qualifying Test. Merit scholars are chosen from the highest scorers in the nation. Starting with the PSAT, the long list of testing that college bound students began in the sophomore year.

China visitors tour schools

In October, Oakland had the privilege to host a delegation of Chinese visitors Director of Education for all of China, L Chang Long and his delegation visited the United States on a three week tour that included a visit to Washington DC. The delegation, consisting of members from each of China's fifty provinces toured all around the country in order to compare educational systems. Oakland staff and the Chinese were able to learn about each other's education program from the delegation. The visitors were impressed with the great variety of classes offered at Skyline. With Oakland being the Chinese delegation's last stop on their US tour, Skyline presented the Chinese a farewell luncheon in the teacher's cafeteria.

Committee accredits School

Western Association of Schools and Colleges accredits schools for periods up to six years. Skyline was accredited and evaluated by the WASC committee in February. Reports of the school had been prepared by Skyline faculty and administration personnel. Selected classes took a questionnaire which asked about students' attitudes on various aspects of the school. Members of leadership class spent hours tallying the results of the questionnaire. The class worked with Ken Goepfert, head of the committee, to write the results of the questionnaire. The reports and answered questions dealing from the school spirit to the academic program WASC used the results to compare the standing of Skyline to other schools. Once again Skyline was accredited for the full six years.

Lines battle for munchies

Getting food from the ROTC Building is becoming a "battle of the munchies." The long lines, broken machines, and lost money are frustrating many students who want a snack quick and easy during Nutrition Break and Lunch. The Problem of impatient students in the cramped room makes it difficult for one to make a selection or to recover his change. Many times adding to the chaos, the machines do not give the right or any change back.

Almost there

For the first time in the history of the United States, the number of people who are not of European descent is growing faster than the number of people who are of European descent. This is a significant change in the demographic makeup of the country, and it is one that is likely to continue for many years to come. The reasons for this change are many, but they all point to the fact that the United States is becoming a more diverse country.

Juniors create fund activities

Looking at past experience and using new creativity, the junior class made the year enjoyable for all. The class was headed by co-presidents Matt Neely and Scott Loo. Other officers were Vice-president David Chiu, Secretary Tiffany Willis, Treasurer Debbie Spander, and Judge Marty Young. The officers enthusiastically supported the T-shirt sales, yearbook cover sales, student directory sales, and Bites Candy sales. In addition they also helped with the Sock Hop and the Homecoming festivities. The junior class raised money in order to have an outstanding Junior Prom with funds left over for their senior year activities. Richard Papp was junior class sponsor.

Co-presidents of the junior class were (1) Scott Loo and Matt Neely. Tiffany Willis (2) was Secretary. Marty Young was Judge, and Debbie Spander took care of fiscal concerns, as Treasurer. Vice-presidential duties were taken care of by (3) David Chiu.

"There is not enough time to go from the Gym to the portables in six minutes," stated one agitated student, Paula Hunt about the revised bell schedule. The addition of the 19 minute long reading period required by all students in Oakland caused the passing period to decrease from seven minutes to a few six minutes. Other possibilities were to omit Nutrition Break or shorten the already short lunch period. Fortunately the passing period plan was chosen, but tardies were a problem for those who had a long way to walk to class.

Readers enjoy extra minutes

J. David Bowick, Superintendent of Oakland Public Schools, announced on August 22, 1985 that a mandatory reading period be instituted for all Oakland Public schools. This reading period took effect at Skyline, October 30. The students, teachers, counselors, classified staff, and administrators read something of personal interest during the assigned reading period which was from 10:27 to 10:48am. "It makes reading more fun." The reading period was designed to help make reading a daily habit for everyone. "I feel that the reading period is beneficial for the students," stated Allaleh Khatbari.

With school over, Kris Fuhrman (1) looks for her ride home. Passing period between classes gives Arwa Al and Song Pa-mese (2) time for some fun.

Shorter lunch bothers all

Altona State School of Public Instruction will have a minimum of 15 minutes of waiting time to six hours. The original instruction did not comply with the three hours and thirty minutes. The lunch period was cut from forty minutes to thirty minutes. Many students complained about the shorter lunch, but to no avail. Students who did not bring their lunches had little time to eat because of the time spent waiting in line.

'Aliens' invade all classrooms

Halloween festivities were held on the Senior lawn and costumes ranged from ghosts to lottery tickets. The winner of the best over all costume was Benjamin Ross '86 as Buckwheat. The winner for the most original costume was Kathleen Kennedy '86 as Elvira. The classrooms were filled to their brinks with students in full exciting costume.

Group collates new name list

Junior class members worked along side the PTA and the CSF to sell student directories. The student directories had not been sold for many years and the students felt a need for an easy way of looking up their fellow students. There were many problems in organizing the directory. Some students and parents did not want their names to appear and the collaters required verification from each student. The juniors split the profits of the much needed directory with the CSF.

TITANS

Junior shirts turn over fast

For the first time the Junior class had a T-shirt sale. Marianne Chang designed the T-shirt and at a meeting her design was accepted. The T-shirts were sold in mid-January for $7. In the past juniors have had many different fund raisers including candy sales, flower sales, bake sales, car washes and pizza nights. T-shirt sales were one of their best money makers.

Rain go away!

Rains are something students get used to being up on the hill. During the month of October and usually through May, the "slanted rains" and gusty winds put a damper on the school days. Students are forced to remain indoors or under building shelters which often times do not protect from the persistent bad weather. Some even go as far as to stay in the "rainy day" rooms in various buildings. The cafeteria is always overcrowded, quite damp and full of hyper students eager for the warm weather that comes in April. "I'd rather have snow than rain, as they did in 1974, because we wouldn't have to come to school then" stated Michelle Broussard.

Juniors select Scottish Rite

Junior Prom night is always a thrilling event for students because for many it is a first formal ball. Unlike previous dances the Junior Prom is a night for the eleventh graders who have waited eagerly for their own night. An extravagant evening of dancing and romancing was in store for many juniors and their dates. After much thought and hard work, the Class of 87 decided on the Scottish Rite Ballroom overlooking Lake Merritt for the April 18 event. In charge of the lovely affair was a committee headed by Dina Cohen.

Moving up

Seniors are members of the elite group. They're eligible for going to the Senior Executive Keyfrers. Only their first semester grades count towards college, giving them the chance to relax during the senior part of the year. They get to go off to college, get to graduate and pursue higher education and a future. But of course, for many, it's a bittersweet time, many memories of the years in high school.

Hard workers raise funds

Led by President Eric Havel, Vice-President Erik Okada, Secretary Nancy Poy, Treasurer Kristin Katsumata and Judge Suzanne Wye, led the enthusiastic senior class to work incredibly hard raising money for the long awaited Senior Ball. Different fund raising activities included a Bowl-a-thon, Aluminum can drive, Pizza Night at Round Table Pizza in Montclair, hot dog, and soft drink sales at the Homecoming game and Class of '86 t-shirts sales. With these many different fund sales events, the Class of 86 also took time to help at the Sock Hop, Homecoming Dance, and the successful Mexican Earthquake Relief Clothing Drive. # Paideia wins money grant

Block teachers Maurice Besse and Herbert Kennedy applied for a grant from the United States Department of Education for the Paideia program. Out of 25 schools statewide and 250 nationwide, Skyline was chosen to receive an award of $20,000 to enlarge this program. The Paideia program consists of English classes and Social Studies classes "blocked" together. Besse, the Social Studies teacher, received a letter of congratulations from the district representative in Congress for the success of the unique program.

Seniors try college life

College life was also a part of the lives of many seniors. Courses at Berkeley and Merritt College took a large part of the school day for some students who insured acceptance at Berkeley and gained both high school and college credits. In order to take the accelerated program at Berkeley a student had to have a 3.7 grade point average. Many took two classes and had difficulty working the courses into their full schedules.

Seniors test for big cash

Any senior that graduates was required to take the California Assessment Program test (CAP). It was given to all high school seniors for state information on the students' basic skills. The CAP test also provided information about individual schools, and where they stood in comparison to other district and state schools. The test covered the basic areas such as reading, written expression, spelling, and math. Every senior had to take the test because it was sent along with transcripts to universities. If the overall test scores improved from the previous year, a cash bonus was awarded to the school. Last year Skyline was handed $35,000. The money was used to purchase video recorders, computers, and monitors, all of which improved the students' education.

Many react

Space Shuttle Challenger tragedy rocked the entire world. On January 28, 1986, a mysterious explosion destroyed the Challenger, killing six crew members and the first teacher in space. The accident made all ponder about space travel. The question arose "Do you think the space program should continue at full force?" "Yes, I am quite interested in the program. If they asked me to go I'd go. I want to go in the future," said Alex Brown. "I think we should continue with the space program, because we should learn from our mistakes," stated Leona Tang. "Definitely, regardless to the problems," answered Biology teacher Walter Bryant. "Yes, after they work out the terrible problems," said Kristina Shirley.

TV project involves six

Six students took part in a Public Broadcasting Service documentary about the relationship between the holocaust and Cambodian genocide. The program was televised several times on Channel 9 and 32. James Cho, Shana Harris, Michael Barnett, Glenda Goodwin, Brian Mc Washington, and Matt Buckner went with Michael Glickman, director, to San Francisco to film a visit to a Cambodian theatre, where they discussed feelings on Cambodian genocide. Afterward the six were rewarded with dinner "on the house" at a Cambodian restaurant. English teacher Herbert Kennedy selected volunteers.

All applaud all appraise

Teacher appreciation started out the year with a PTA luncheon for teachers and administrators. PTA members continued their appreciation by visiting and helping with projects. When the holiday season began, California Scholarship Federation gave plump juicy apples to teachers and administrators and the Key Club delivered a rose to each teacher. The administrators gave a day long tea during all conference periods Friday before Christmas. Many students stayed away from school during the strike to show their support of teachers and even took lunches up to them several times. Montclair merchants sent doughnuts to picket line walkers.

Seniors feel

As Graduation Day drew near seniors began to realize that their various paths would soon spread across the nation. Nothing would ever be the same again. ## Seniors pose with Mickey

Since the sixties Grad Night has gained popularity. The flower-children of that era felt that the Senior Ball was not "hip" enough so they decided to fly to Disneyland instead. Soon in the 70's people wanted a Ball again but did not want to give up Disneyland. Since then, Skyline has had both the trip and the Ball. This year, the parent-sponsored event took place on May 23-24. The seniors visited Magic Mountain on the two-day, one-night trip.

Seniors hold festive Ball

Hotel Meridien San Francisco was the location for seniors' biggest event, the Senior Ball, May 30. The senior class with a committee headed by Eric Havel and Nancy Poy worked feverishly all year to raise money for the expensive ball. The Meridien was favored over the Fairmont, Ramada Renaissance and the St. Francis hotels since it was the least expensive, and had the best ballroom. San Francisco, the city, hosted many sleek limos that arrived that Friday with many seniors and their guests in extravagant tuxedos and gowns. Couples danced and partied past midnight in a whirl of excitement. The Ball was an unforgettable grand event remembered by all that attended.

Seniors cope at picket line

Striking teachers and minimum days after January 7 denied students a chance to resume the daily ritual of school after the winter break. Seniors who needed college recommendation letters from their teachers were upset as were the teachers who had to write them. However, the "picket line problem" was overcome by the accommodating administration and the use of the famed "hole in the fence."

Blood drive 'draws' well

Volunteers came in large numbers to the fall blood drive. Nurse Ida Miller, her IWEs, and members of Health Careers Opportunities Program signed up donors to give blood during Period 1 through Period 2. Donors filled out forms, were identified, checked for anemia, waited for an empty table, and finally gave blood, for a total time of one hour and fifteen minutes. Donors then ate cookies and drank juice to get their strength back. Donors received T-shirts and See's suckers. Because of the lack of knowledge of giving blood, many people thought they might contract the dreaded disease of AIDS. The blood banks were low on all blood types, however, students gave more blood for this blood drive than in other drives.

Seniors use new process

Application process for the University of California changed for the better. This year seniors could apply to more than one JC campus. Previously students were re-directed to one of the eight universities, not necessarily their choice. Students could apply to two campuses for $35 and each additional one for $20. Applications were sent during November. Each application was accompanied by the student's essay.

Classes tour Historic sight

Close-Up trip to Washington DC was an experience one never forgets. Through daily workshops and seminars, the program instructors brought out one's ideas on politics and learned to accept others. Capitol Hill Day was spent by most people to see the Supreme Court in progress. Many students also went to see the House of Representatives and the Senate in session. On the night bus tour, people saw the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials and passed by the White House. Friday, the only free day of the whole week, was spent seeing the many Smithsonian Buildings and going to Georgetown. Group 90, the students that went from February 23 to March 1, stayed in Twin Bridges, which is closer to the Capitol, while Group 100 students who went a week later, stayed in Silver Springs, 15 miles away. Both groups roomed with people from Oregon or Minnesota. Associating with Minnesota people caused students to come home with the flu. An interesting event for the second group was a two hour wait with 20 people in an elevator, which brought students close up."

Top scholars gain honor

Many students were commended with memberships to the Acropolis Chapter of the National Honor Society in recognition for their academic achievements. Headed by Henry Bianchi, NHS required members to have a GPA of at least 3.5, a record of community and school services, and at least one elected office. Each student also had to obtain recommendations from at least six members of the faculty.

Writers earn high honors

Many journalism students were selected to be members of Quill and Scroll. Requirements for membership in this International Honor Society for High School Journalists included a GPA of at least 3.0, a minimum of 150 printed inches in the school newspaper or yearbook, and recommendation by the adviser. In the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students, two students were commended for their scores and two became finalist and semi-finalist in the program. On the basis of their writing skills in their junior year, five students were selected by teachers to compete in the National Council of Teachers of English contest.

Seniors win many awards

For the Bank of America Achievement Awards, students were nominated by teachers from each department. Four students were selected to receive a Bank of America Achievement plaque award for the fields of Fine Arts, Liberal Arts, Applied Arts, and Science and Mathematics. These students were eligible to compete for a chance to win as much as $2000. The Bank of America also awarded eleven students certificates of award in areas of Art, Music, Drama, English, Business, Trade-and-industry, Foreign Language, Social Studies, Lab Science, Mathematics, and Computer Studies. Scholarships were also awarded to seniors for their athletic and scholastic achievements.

Bank of America plaque winners (1) are Erik Okada (Applied Arts), David Greenson (Liberal Arts), Eric Lindquist (Science & Mathematics), and Jay Hardy-King (Fine Arts). Winning $500 from the Retired Naval Officers Association (7) is Nichole Fenroy. Athletes Raymond Sanders, Brian Johnson, and Leon Patterson (8) received scholarships to Cal Berkeley, Stanford, and Long Beach State. Bank of America certificate winners also include (9) Ann Marie Smith (Computer Studies), (10) Guy Dabhoi (English), and Suzanne Samuels (Social Studies).

High grades earn honor

In recognition for their outstanding academic achievement many students were recommended for their effort with membership in the California Scholarship Federation. At the end of each semester, students submitted their report cards to Henry Bianchi. Students who accumulated ten or more points among their semester grades (A's being three points, and B's being one point) with no D's or F's, were awarded with membership. For maintaining membership at least 4 of the 6 semesters, one of which must be a senior year, many students were honored with a lifetime membership. These CSF Sealbearers wore gold tassels on their graduation caps and have a gold seal on their transcripts.

Ten capture top places

Throughout the school year, many students spent countless hours studying late at night cramming their heads with formulas, dates, and statistics. Various students, as a result of their outgoing determination ranked top in the senior class. Eric Lindquist and David Schnayer both managed to maintain a 4.0 average throughout their academic years. As graduation came, many outstanding seniors were recognized for their academic superiority.

The top ten seniors include (1) Eric Lindquist, (2) David Schnayer, (3) Sharon Hall, (4) Calvin Hsieh, (5) Igor Kpnis, (6) Lori Kwok, (7) Rachel Holmes, (8) Catherine Eagan, (9) Kristin Katsumata, and (10) Sean Eagan.

Ads pay off

Advertisers not only helped reduce the price of publishing the yearbook, but they also provided a section which is a valuable guide to business resources in the area. Many students have found employment and valuable goods in the Montclair area's many shops. Furthermore, some have said that Montclair's many restaurants and boutiques give it a very Carmel-like atmosphere.

HARRELL SCHOOL PICTURES

just keeps on growin'

We have since 1955

There aren't many companies left like this one. Harrell School Pictures is one of the few remaining independent school picture companies in the industry.

It takes special qualities to stay home owned and family operated in these fast moving conglomerate times; and who knows more about quality, service and dependability than The Harrells.

Since 1955 when Calvin and Janet Suane Harrell started the company, the Harrells have taken pride in each and every product. Today, 30 years later, choosy customers choose Harrell School Pictures because of our commitment to quality and customer satisfaction.

Whether it's Senior Portraits, School Day Portraits, Instant I.D. Cards, Special Effect Photography, Team Trophy Photography, Prom and Ball Photography, Large Group Photography or Restorations, you deserve the best so remember our family . . .

Strike disrupts school year

All of the schools in the Oakland Public School system were thrown into turmoil when the teachers' union went on strike the day after Winter Vacation. On Monday, January 6, thousands of OPS teachers began what proved to be a four week walkout. The teachers had been working without a contract since July 1, 1985. Due to the fact that the district was unprepared for a strike, even though the teachers had threatened to strike three times, education was brought to a stand still. Everyday, while teacher and union representatives made no progress, more and more students stayed away from school. At one point, over 50,000 of the 54,000 OPS students were absent from class. The students hurt most by the strike were high school seniors. Usually, near the end of the first semester, seniors begin to get applications, letters of recommendation, and transcripts sent to the colleges of their choice. Because of the strike, however, teachers and counselors were not on campus and were unable to seriously help the graduates. Once the strike finally ended the next two weeks were used in order to complete the semester. Along with the transcripts, a letter was sent to a college explaining the situation. Massive confusion was still present even when school began.

Adults (5) were not the only people supporting the strike. Students leaving school early (6) was a familiar sight during the strike. Lynne Ottoson, Anthony Barton, and Clarence Stevenson (7) take a break during the strike. Hard at work, Ajmir Singh (8) fixes his sign. Leonard Wong and a friend (9) watch the surroundings.

Change marks special year

Unlike past years, Skyline students had a variety of things to talk about everyday during the school's 25th year. In October, Oakland schools had the privilege of hosting a delegation of Chinese visitors. Joe Coto became Oakland's Superintendent of Oakland Public Schools when J. David Bowick resigned in November. Skyline was again accredited by Western Association of Schools (WASC), an organization responsible for accrediting institutions of learning in Western States. Students, staffs, and the PTA jointly produced a Student Handbook. The PTA also combined with CSF to print a Student Directory. An unfortunate number of faculty members, including Principal Judith Watson, spent many hours in the hospital. Skyline's football team defeated Oakland High to win the Silver Bowl for the second straight year at the Homecoming game. Due to the month-long teachers strike, a recall of the Board of Education was put into motion, and various school activities were delayed. The Spring Dance was pushed back to April, the Olympian yearbook sale was extended time, the Spring musical was put off until May, and the annual Olympiad was held later in the year. Sports schedules were also delayed and two weeks were taken off from the first semester which caused great concerns for many seniors. Many changes occurred in the school day. Classes got off to a five minute earlier start, lunch period was shortened to only half an hour, and a new reading period was added. Around the Bay Area, star-watchers and astronomers kept their telescopes peeled for one of the rarest phenomenon in the Universe, Halley's comet. In February, the Bay Area was hit with what was possibly the worst storm in history. Damage cost of the storm was estimated in the millions. At the beginning of the new year, California put into effect a law mandating the use of seat belt, and also began the long awaited lottery which produced grand prizes as high as $6 million. At least thirty four percent of the money generated by the lottery went to the California education system.

California lottery (1) gave away millions of dollars to many winners. Skyline (2) celebrated its twenty-fifth year. Eileen Lee (3) always has something to smile about. Jeff Love (4) thinks life is funny. Liz Niven and Kurt Burton (5) listen to yearbook details. Having a ball during lunch (6) are Kirk Kanagaki and Jack Vonch. Waving to his fans (7) is Tommy Webb. Supporting the teachers' strike (8) is Shirley Heady's dog Robert. Jud Smith (9) wonders if he can type fast enough. Chatting before class (10) are Wendi Sue Anna Schroeffer, Jennie Molica, and Rani Derasary.

"As the world turns"

As Skyline celebrated its 25th anniversary, images of the passing year remained in each student's mind. An American tragedy reflected on the world when millions of people watched the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger that killed six American astronauts and the first teacher in space, Christa McAuliffe. In the Middle East, acts of terrorism such as, the hijack of TWA flight 847, the ship Achille Lauro and the terrorists attack on the Rome and Vienna airports, brought variations of murder and mayhem. The Geneva Summit Meeting between President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev did not bring an agreement nor did it make things worse. Natural disasters produced a catastrophic earthquake that killed 20,000 people in Mexico, and a volcanic eruption in Colombia that caused mudslides that left as many as 25,000 dead. Air tragedies took the lives of 520 aboard an ill-fated Japanese airline, and 134 in a Delta jet accident in Dallas. After the death of actor Rock Hudson, Elizabeth Taylor and friends raised money for AIDS research as no cure had yet been found for the lethal disease. After a fierce presidential election, Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos was forced from his presidency by Corazano Aquino, wife of the murdered opposition, after he was inaugurated. Antiapartheid became a greater problem in South Africa as did the continuation of famine in parts of Ethiopia and Sudan. Boomtown Rats singer Bob Geldof efforts to help the Africa famine victims resulted in all-star Live Aid concerts in London and Philadelphia that were broadcast to over one billion TV viewers. Country singer Willie Nelson followed suit and created Farm Aid which helped the American farmers. The music industry climbed to the top as Phil Collins, Madonna, and Bruce Springsteen, the undisputed Boss of Rock'n'Roll, swept the nation. Television grew in popularity with shows as "The Cosby Show," "Dynasty," and "Miami Vice." The movie industry was successful in the box office with hits "Back to the Future," "Out of Africa," and "Rambo: First Blood, Part II". Cincinnati Reds player-manager Pete Rose broke Ty Cobb's all-time career hit record in baseball. All around America fans watched as the Kansas City Royals defeated the St. Louis Cardinals to win the World Series, and the Chicago Bears defeated the New England Patriots to become Super Bowl XX champions.

Kansas City Roy's pitcher Bret Saberhagen (1) embraces third baseman George Brett after winning the World Series. A resident of Armenia in the Coomban mountains (2) is helped by the Coomban Red Cross during digging out efforts. A man (3) runs from jeering groups of stonethrowing blacks in downtown Johannesburg, South Africa. Singer Bob Geldof (4) triumphs at Live Aid. President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev (5) talk in front of a fireplace in Geneva. Palestinian terrorists (6) hack the Italian cruise liner Achille Lauro. Don Johnson and Philip Michael Thomas (7) smile about their success on Miami Vice. Star-crossed crew of the Challenger (8) are Gregory Jarvis, Ellison Onizuka, Ronald McNair, Judith Resnick, Christa McAuliffe, Mike Smith, and flight commander Francis Scobee. A series of devastating earthquakes (9) rumbled through Mexico City in September.

The party's over . . .

Despite a late start in production due to the adviser's illness, much effort was made to produce the best possible yearbook as a commemoration of Skyline High School. Frustrations, headaches, and irreconcilable differences were admitted, the hard work was completed, layouts and photos were set. Due to the teachers' strike, several staff members and the adviser put in hours of time to meet and work at students' homes. Special thank-yous go to David Gill, Joanna Lowe, Jud Smith, and their parents for the use of their homes. Acknowledgment goes to Stan Wynne for his help in the Yearbook Company, who pulled in his sleeves and pitched in to help in every way possible. Thanks also to Kurt E. Eton of Western School Portraits for his patience, time, and understanding. Because of the demanding yearbook deadlines, gratitude is extended to all the teachers that let yearbook members out of their classes. Appreciation goes to Birgit Steensen, Toni Pine for her artistic contributions, yearbook staff, and Western photographers for their long hours spent on photographs. Last of all, a very special thanks to Pegé R. for coping with all of the staff. The writer never thought making a yearbook would be so difficult and complicated. Most students expect someone else to complete the book and all they have to do is pick it up at the end of the year. A yearbook is not to show who is the most popular, prettiest, or has the most pictures but to record the history, events, and memories during the past year. The copy and pictures in the 25th edition represent people that made this year what it is. Pictures of people were taken on their luck, active-ness, and not their popularity. Now that the work is done, this writer is proud to be a part of this year's Olympian. Who produced the 25TH ANNUAL OLYMPIAN '86.
